Axis Bank loses 15K staff in 9 months, hires 28K more

New Delhi Hit hard by the exodus of about 15,000 employees in the last nine months, leading private lender Axis Bank has gone on a hiring drive by adding some 28,000 employees on a gross basis to support its expansion drive into the Tier-II and III towns. According to industry insiders, automation as well as requirement of newer skill sets has accelerated the sector's attrition rate. However, such exodus should not come as a shock since the sector's attrition rates typically range between 20 per cent and 22 per cent. On a net basis, the bank, which at one point of time employed around 75,000 people, did hire about 12,800 employees from April till December, 2019.

On its part, the lender said that its attrition rates have marginally inched-up from April till December 2019 to 19 per cent from 17 per cent during the corresponding period of the last fiscal. "The bank is expanding fast and last year has been a year of large number of new hirings; substantially higher numbers compared to last year both in gross as well as on net basis," Rajesh Dahiya, Executive Director, Axis Bank, was quoted as saying in a statement. "We have robust plans to add another 25,000 to 30,000 employees in Axis Bank and the subsidiaries in next 2 years or so," he added. Furthermore, the bank said that it plans to open 550 branches this financial year against 400 last year. "We shall add another 4,000 more employees in the last quarter of FY20. Much of this is being hired in semi-urban and Tier II or III towns and rural India," Dahiya said.

SC stays NCLAT order reinstating Cyrus Mistry as executive chairman of Tata Sons

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Friday stayed the NCLAT decision to restore Cyrus Mistry as executive chairman of the Tata Group. The top court noted that it looked at the judicial attitude with which the NCLAT made the December 18 order and "find that it is sorely lacking". The court asked Mistry and Shapoorji Pallonji group including Sterling Investment and Cyrus Investment to file a reply to the Tata group's appeal in four weeks. Tata Sons Private Ltd (TSPL) had challenged the December 18 decision of the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) that gave a big relief to Cyrus Investment Pvt Ltd and Mistry, restoring him as the executive chairman of TSPL. The NCLAT also ruled that the appointment of N Chandrasekaran as head of the holding company of the $110-billion salt-to-software conglomerate was illegal. Tatas stated that the verdict by the NCLAT had "undermined corporate democracy" and "rights" of its board of directors. Mistry came out with a statement on Sunday saying that he is not interested in returning to the Tata Group and the decision was made in the interest of the Group, whose interests are far more important than the interests of any individual.

Govt must focus on economy: Roubini

MUMBAI: American economist Nouriel Roubini has indicated that the government should focus on economic issues, warning that there could be a loss of popularity if the economy goes down.

Speaking at an event organised by the CFA institute, the professor of economics at New York University's Stern School of Business said that the government here has chosen to focus on ideological considerations rather than economic slowdown.

Besides highlighting slowdown risks, Roubini said "problems on the street" also make foreign investors worried. He also noted that the population dividend is not an asset for India if the youth is going to be deprived of education, healthcare and, most importantly, employment. He added that the country needs to create one million jobs a month.

Earlier, in an interview to ET Now, Roubini

said that one of the problems that India has faced and which also explains part of its recent economic slowdown is that the country has not been as open on the trade and investment front. Opening up the economy to a wide range of interaction with the global economy will be part of a strategy that would lead to an increasing potential growth of India," he said. "It is true that a country like India might be sheltered compared to a larger open economy like China or some of the smaller open economies in Asia and other parts of the world when there is a major global shock, but India needs opening up because that is going to be beneficial for potential growth," he added. The possibility of continuing tension between the US and Iran, which is leading to military skirmishes, poses an additional challenge for emerging markets like India as the price of the import oil will go up, Roubini said. He said that there would not be a global recession this year.

After years of delay, House of Commons paves way for Brexit on Jan 31

London Britain's parliament finally approved Brexit on Thursday, allowing it to become the first country to leave the European Union by the end of this month, ending years of arguments that toppled two governments and divided a nation. The House of Commons erupted in cheers after MPs ratified Prime Minister Boris Johnson's divorce deal with Brussels 330 votes to 231, drawing a line under an extraordinary era of political drama and chaos. For much of the time since the 2016 Brexit referendum, lawmakers have been at each others' throats over how, when or even if Britain should leave its closest trading partners after nearly 50 years. Some viewed Brexit with horror, fearing that it stripped them of their European identities and turned Britain into an insular, less important nation.

Others embraced it with fervour, viewing it as a chance to "take back control" from officials in Brussels and see Britain regain some of its past might. Businesses and governments in Europe, puzzled by Britain's struggles over what they viewed as a self-inflicted wound, hoped that Brexit could still somehow be undone. But Johnson's comprehensive victory in last month's general election brought an abrupt end to the turmoil, giving his Conservatives a parliamentary majority with which to push it through. MPs gave their initial blessing to the EU Withdrawal Agreement Bill before Christmas, and the government set aside just three days this week for detailed scrutiny of the complex text. But few MPs even bothered to turn up on Tuesday and Wednesday, with both sessions ending early, while the government easily saw off opposition attempts to amend the text. The momentous day on which Johnson effectively gets permission to abandon the European integration project was all but ignored in Thursday's media. Instead, it became a footnote to Prince Harry and his wife Meghan's decision to quit royal front-line duties -- christened "Megxit" and shaping up to be equally complicated and divisive.

"We will be leaving the EU on January 31. We will have delivered on the PM's commitment to get Brexit done," a government spokesman said, echoing Johnson's election mantra. Britain's main opposition Labour party, bruised by its worst beating at the polls since 1935, voted against Brexit on Thursday knowing the battle had been lost. "We may not win many votes in parliament just now, but we can win the moral argument", said Labour's Brexit spokesman Keir Starmer, a potential successor to Jeremy Corbyn as party leader.

"Whatever (Johnson) says about the wider issues, he must know the government have got this wrong." The Brexit bill must still be passed by the unelected House of Lords and the European Parliament, which is seen as a formality.

All eyes are now on another major challenge: the negotiation of a new relationship between Britain and the remaining 27 EU nations, which form the world's largest single market. The Brexit deal covers separation issues such as EU citizens' rights and Britain's financial settlement, and sets out an 11-month transition period in which to agree a wider partnership. Brussels warns the current deadline of December 31 this year is extremely tight, and has given London the option to ask for more time. But Johnson insists there will be no extension of the transition period, saying that Britain must be free of EU rules as soon as possible.

Ahead of talks with Johnson on Wednesday, European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said it would be "basically impossible" to agree everything within London's timeframe. "We will have to prioritise," she said in a speech to the London School of Economics university, warning of "tough talks ahead". In response, Johnson's office indicated that it could accept a partial trade deal. London did not want the EU's long-standing policy that "nothing is agreed until everything is agreed" -- intended to stop one side cherry-picking bits of a deal they like -- to defuse the coming negotiations, a spokesman said. "We are very clear we want to get on in terms of negotiating a deal," he said.

Most extensive: Rahul Gandhi takes 'Suit Boot Budget' jibe at PM Modi

NEW DELHI: Former Congress president Rahul Gandhi on Friday termed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Budget consultations as "reserved for crony capitalist friends" and "the super rich".

Taking it to Twitter, the Congress leader wrote: "Modi's 'most extensive' budget consultation ever, is reserved for crony capitalist friends & the super rich. He has no interest in the views or voices of our farmers, students, youth, women, Govt & PSU employees, small businessmen or middle class tax payers. #SuitBootBudget"

Couple of days back, PM Modi held a meeting with top business leaders of the country and exhorted them to give candid feedback on what has contributed to the slowdown, along with their views on what needs to be done to reverse the trend. While pre-Budget consultations between the finance minister and industry captains have been par for the course, Modi's invitation to them was the first of its kind, at least in recent years. Apart from the Prime Minister, there was only one official present in the room, a format which many attendees saw as designed to encourage a free exchange of views. On Thursday, PM Modi met economists, private equity and venture capitalists, business leaders and agri experts at Niti Aayog, and called for focussed efforts from all stakeholders to achieve the target of nearly doubling the size of the Indian economy to $5 trillion by 2024. In can be noted that finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman was not a part of both the meetings. The Congress also took a swipe at Sitharaman over her absence at these pre-budget meetings.

In a first, RBI allows KYC process on mobile video

Mumbai: In a move that will enable banks and fintechs onboard customers remotely, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has amended its norms to allow the 'know your customer' (KYC) process to be completed through a mobile video conversation. The central bank has also facilitated eKYC and digital KYC by allowing use of Aadhaar or other e-documents in the customer due diligence process.

This makes India one of the rare markets to allow video KYC through an amendment to the RBI rules after the government amended the Prevention of Money Laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005. "I think this is a world first where the regulator has allowed video KYC. Banks can onboard customers by doing a video KYC through the app and acquiring Aadhaar and PAN. Non-banks, although they don't have access to eKYC, can complete the process by using the physical Aadhaar or the QR code," said Naveen Surya, chairman of Fintech Convergence Council, which has been pushing for this. After eKYC using Aadhaar was discontinued following a Supreme Court decision, mobile wallets found it difficult to onboard new customers. In a circular issued on Thursday, the RBI said, "Digital KYC has been defined as capturing live photo of the customer and officially valid document or the proof of possession of Aadhaar, where offline verification cannot be carried out, along with the latitude and longitude of the location where such live photo is being taken by an authorised officer of the reporting entity (RE)." Reacting to the circular, NITI Aayog chief Amitabh Kant said in a tweet, "Great initiative by RBI! Circular on video based customer identification process will make presence-less and paperless banking a reality. The circular is a huge positive step towards Prime Minister Narendra Modi's goal of Digital Financial Inclusion." Once the Aadhaar has been used, the regulated entity must either edit out or blackout the Aadhaar number. The e-document has been defined as an electronic equivalent of an officially valid document with its valid digital signature, including documents issued to the digital locker account of the customer. The central bank has said that the KYC process cannot be outsourced to any third-party service provider and the audio-visual interaction must be triggered from the domain of the regulated entity itself. Also, the video customer identification has to be done by officials trained for this purpose and the video recordings preserved. "Regulated entities are encouraged to take assistance of the latest available technology, including artificial intelligence (AI) and face-matching technologies to ensure the integrity of the process as well as the information furnished by the customer."
