'Singham' of Karnataka Police Annamalai quits, may join politics

Bengaluru. Deputy Commissioner of Police (Bengaluru South) K Annamalai, who is popularly known as 'Singham' of Karnataka Police, resigned from his post on Tuesday. Annamalai, a native of Karur in Tamil Nadu, is a 2011-batch Karnataka cadre IPS officer. While there is a speculation that he could take a plunge in politics, in a letter addressed to his friends and well-wishers, he has not revealed any such plan. The letter is available on social Annamalai's colleague and Director General of Police, Railways (Bangalore region) D Roopa Moudgil, in a tweet, however, said that Annamalai will enter politics. "Spoke to Annamalai, IPS .@DCPSouthBCP. He has tendered resignation today. He is plunging into politics. It requires guts, boldness to leave cushy, secure, hard earned IPS job. Its heartening to see such achievers n youngsters diving into politics. Wishing him all the best.'

Annamalai, in his letter, said that the decision (to resign) was well-thought out for over six-months' time. "Last year, my visit to Kailash Mansarovar was an eyeopener as it helped me see my priorities in life better. Madhukar Shetty sir's death in a way made me to re-examine my own life," he stated in the letter.Madhukar Shetty, a Karnataka cadre IPS officer, passed away on December 2018 in Hyderabad where he was being treated for swine flu.Annamalai has also written about his future plans in the letter. "For people who are speculating what next for me. I'm too small a man to have lofty ambitions. I just wanted to take some time out and enjoy those small things in life which I had pisced out has good fotbarts. which I had missed out, be a good father to my son, who deserves every bit of my time as he is fast growing up, get into farming back home and see whether my sheep still listens to me as I'm no more a cop now.

Annamalai began his career as ASP of Karkala sub-division in 2013, before becoming SP of Udupi and Chikkamagaluru districts. He is known as an upright and strict officer. During his transfer from Udupi district, people in the district had protested his transfer.

Over 1,000 FPCs in Maharashtra nonfunctional or report zero business

These professionally-managed firms were expected to take the place of cooperative bodies which, over the years, have become either redundant or too politicised to

Pune.Over a year after the Union Budget 2018 gave Farmer Producer Companies (FPCs) a five-year tax holiday, their performance in Maharashtra shows that the central government's step hasn't helped them much as, of the 1,696 registered FPCs in Maharashtra, 1,048 have either reported no business or were found to be nonfunctional.Formed by farmers, the FPCs are companies registered under the Company's Act by farmers. These professionally-managed firms were expected to take the place of cooperative bodies which, over the years, have become either redundant or too politicised to work.Recognising the importance of the FPCs in the agri-ecosystem, the 2018 budget had tried to give them a boost by announcing a five-year tax holiday. The central government had hoped that this would ensure these grassroot-level companies expand their activities and explore newer business avenues. A survey, conducted by the Department of Agriculture, took into consideration the 1,696 FPCs that are registered with government bodies like the World Bank sponsored-Maharashtra Agriculture Competitiveness Project, which has been completed, Small Farmers Agribusiness Consortium and NABARD, among others. The survey studied the FPCs, the commodities they deal with and their turnover.Data showed that of the 1,696 FPCs, 308 were found to be non-functional and 740 were found to have either not reported any turnover or reported a turnover of 0. Of the remaining FPCs, 204 had reported turnover between Rs 10 and Rs 50 lakh per year, while 135 had reported turnover between Rs 7 and Rs 10 lakh. Only 104 FPCs have reported a turnover above Rs 50 lakh. Aurangabad had reported the highest number of non-working FPCs, 45, while Pune had reported the highest number of FPCs which have reported 0 or no turnover, 99.

On an average, almost 50 per cent of the registered FPCs in any district have either been shut down or failed to report their turnover. The data poses several questions about the functioning and the condition of FPCs in Maharashtra. Yogesh Thorat, managing director of the MahaFPC — the umbrella body of the FPCs in the state said almost 50 per cent of the registered FPCs in the state were being taken care of by a government body. "Unfortunately, once the hand-holding process ended, they are at a loss about their next step. For the other half, lack of any direction has affected their growth as they were not clear about their business plan," he said.

No regulatory policy, Haryana, Punjab autos make a killing drives against auto-rickshaws (three-wheelers), conducted by State Transport Authority (STA) and UT Traffic Police, has failed to put the increasing number of autos in the city under the ambit of law. The recent instruction issued by Punjab and Haryana High Court to Chandigarh Administration regarding the formulation of a regulatory policy to keep a check on the increasing numbers of autos (three-wheelers) in city has, in fact, raised a matter of concern. The STA, which stopped registration of new threewheelers in Chandigarh due to their sheer number (6,000), passed the buck to neighbouring cities of Mohali and Panchkula for managing the hectic presence of autos. Despite this, road safety experts maintain that it is the responsibility of local authorities to kep a tab on this menace.

As many as 7,136 autos, including those bearing Chandigarh, Panchkula and Haryana registration numbers, have been challaned in the city since January 1 to May 15 in this year alone. Challans were issued by STA and UT Traffic Police separately. STA alone has challaned 488 autos, including those registered with Tricity, for various traffic violations. Chandigarh Traffic Police has challaned 6,648 autos and impounded 241 autos for various traffic offenses.STA, Secretary, Harjeet Singh Sandhu, said, "We have stopped registration of new autos in Chandigarh. We are not authorised to register new autos if 6,000 auto-rickshaws have already been registered in the city. The real problem is that neighbouring cities of Panchkula and Mohali have no bar on the number of autos they register. We challan autos bearing other states' number plates also. There is no rule that can prevent the entry of autos registered with other states, including Haryana and Punjab, in auto-rickshaws for violating permits."ccording to Mohali's Transport Department, 13,200 auto-rickshaws have been registered in Mohali, and 5,000 in Panchkula.Harman Sidhu, a road safety expert, said, "There is not a single entry and exit point of Chandigarh, where you will not find unregulated and long queues of autos. These queues encroach upon cycle tracks and pedestrian paths. They are rashly driven and the stop the auto-rickshaws in the middle of the road just to pick up middle of the road just to pick up passengers. This invites road accidents. Despite the fact that in Chandigarh, registration of new autos has stopped, people continue to purchase autos and run these on road with temporary registration numbes."A senior traffic police officer said, "We regularly challan autos for violation of traffic rules. The challan drive is still going on and is being conducted by Chandigarh Traffic Police. The challans were issued for not wearing uniform, lack of all necesary documents,

Delhi: Rejected by woman, man kidnaps her father, arrested

New Delhi Unable to cope with a woman's refusal of his marriage proposal, a 24-year-old man allegedly kidnapped her father from Dwarka early Sunday morning. Police arrested Sanjeev Gill, a delivery agent with an online retailer, from Mathura Junction railway station in UP Monday morning and rescued the woman's father as well.

Police said the man was kidnapped around 3 am on Sunday, from outside his work place in Dwarka's Old Palam Road, by four men who pulled up in a white car."The woman's father lives in Delhi while the rest of the family, including the woman, moved to Bhopal two-three months ago because Gill kept troubling her," said a police officer. DCP (Dwarka) Anto Alphonse said, "The victim's daughter received calls from two different mobile numbers... her father, who was on the line, said he was in Sonepat and advised her to marry one "Sanju", as he is a good boy." It was this conversation that led the woman to suspect that her father had been kidnapped by Gill. Alphons said the mobile numbers were put under surveillance and traced to Barautin UP. "The accused kept changing his location; he was finally traced to Mathura and a r r e s t e d, " s a i d Alphonse. According to a police officer, "Gill and the woman were due to get married, but it was called off as she suspected he was cheating on her. When Gill kept pressuring the woman and her family to agree to the woman told us that Gill threatened to shoot her brother if she didn't marry him... he texted her all this," said a police officer, who was a part of the team, led by SHO Dwarka North police station Sanjay Kumar, which arrested the accused.
