Not afraid of being seen

"If your intentions are noble, you won't be tainted no matter with whom you are standing," Modi said, adding that Mahatma Gandhi lived in the Birla household. The opposition has been targeting Modi over his government's alleged failure to bring back fugitive diamond merchant Nirav Modi, who is at the centre of a multi-thousand crore fraud at the Punjab National Bank (PNB), and Nirav's uncle, Mehul Choksi. The opposition has also been critical of Modi government's inaction while persons like Vijay Mallya, Nirav Modi, Choksi, Jatin Mehta and Lalit Modi easily flew out of the country after being accused of committing huge financial frauds. The Congress party has of late also targeting Modi for allegedly giving the offset contract in the Rafale jet deal with France to "one of his corporate friends" at the expense of state owned Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd. "Mahatma Gandhi never hesitated standing beside (Ghanshyam Das) Birlaji because his intentions were right. But those who do things behind the curtain and wish not to be seen publicly (with corporates), they are afraid," Modi said. "Just as much as the labour of a farmer, an artisan, a banker, a government employee or a labourer goes into the making of the nation, the efforts of industrialists too have a role in nation building. Should we insult them, call them thieves and robbers? Is this the way? "But yes, whoever (among corporates) does the wrong, he will either have to leave the country or live in jail. This would not happen earlier because a lot happened behind the curtains then." Pointing at former Samajwadi Party leader Amar Singh, who was in the audience, Modi said that Singh can give details of many such deals of "those people". "Do people not know who is flying in whose plane?" Modi said with a sarcastic smile.
